In the interview, Maks revealed that getting married at the venue had been a dream of his since he first moved to New York as a teenager.

"We have an amazing, amazing space on Long Island, Oheka [Castle]. It's going to be great," he said. "I remember when I was passing by this castle when I first immigrated, and [I said,] 'That's where I want to have my wedding,' and I just said it so [casually] and now it's happening. We went there. It's perfect. We're going to have it for two days. They're closing the whole hotel. It's going to be unbelievable."

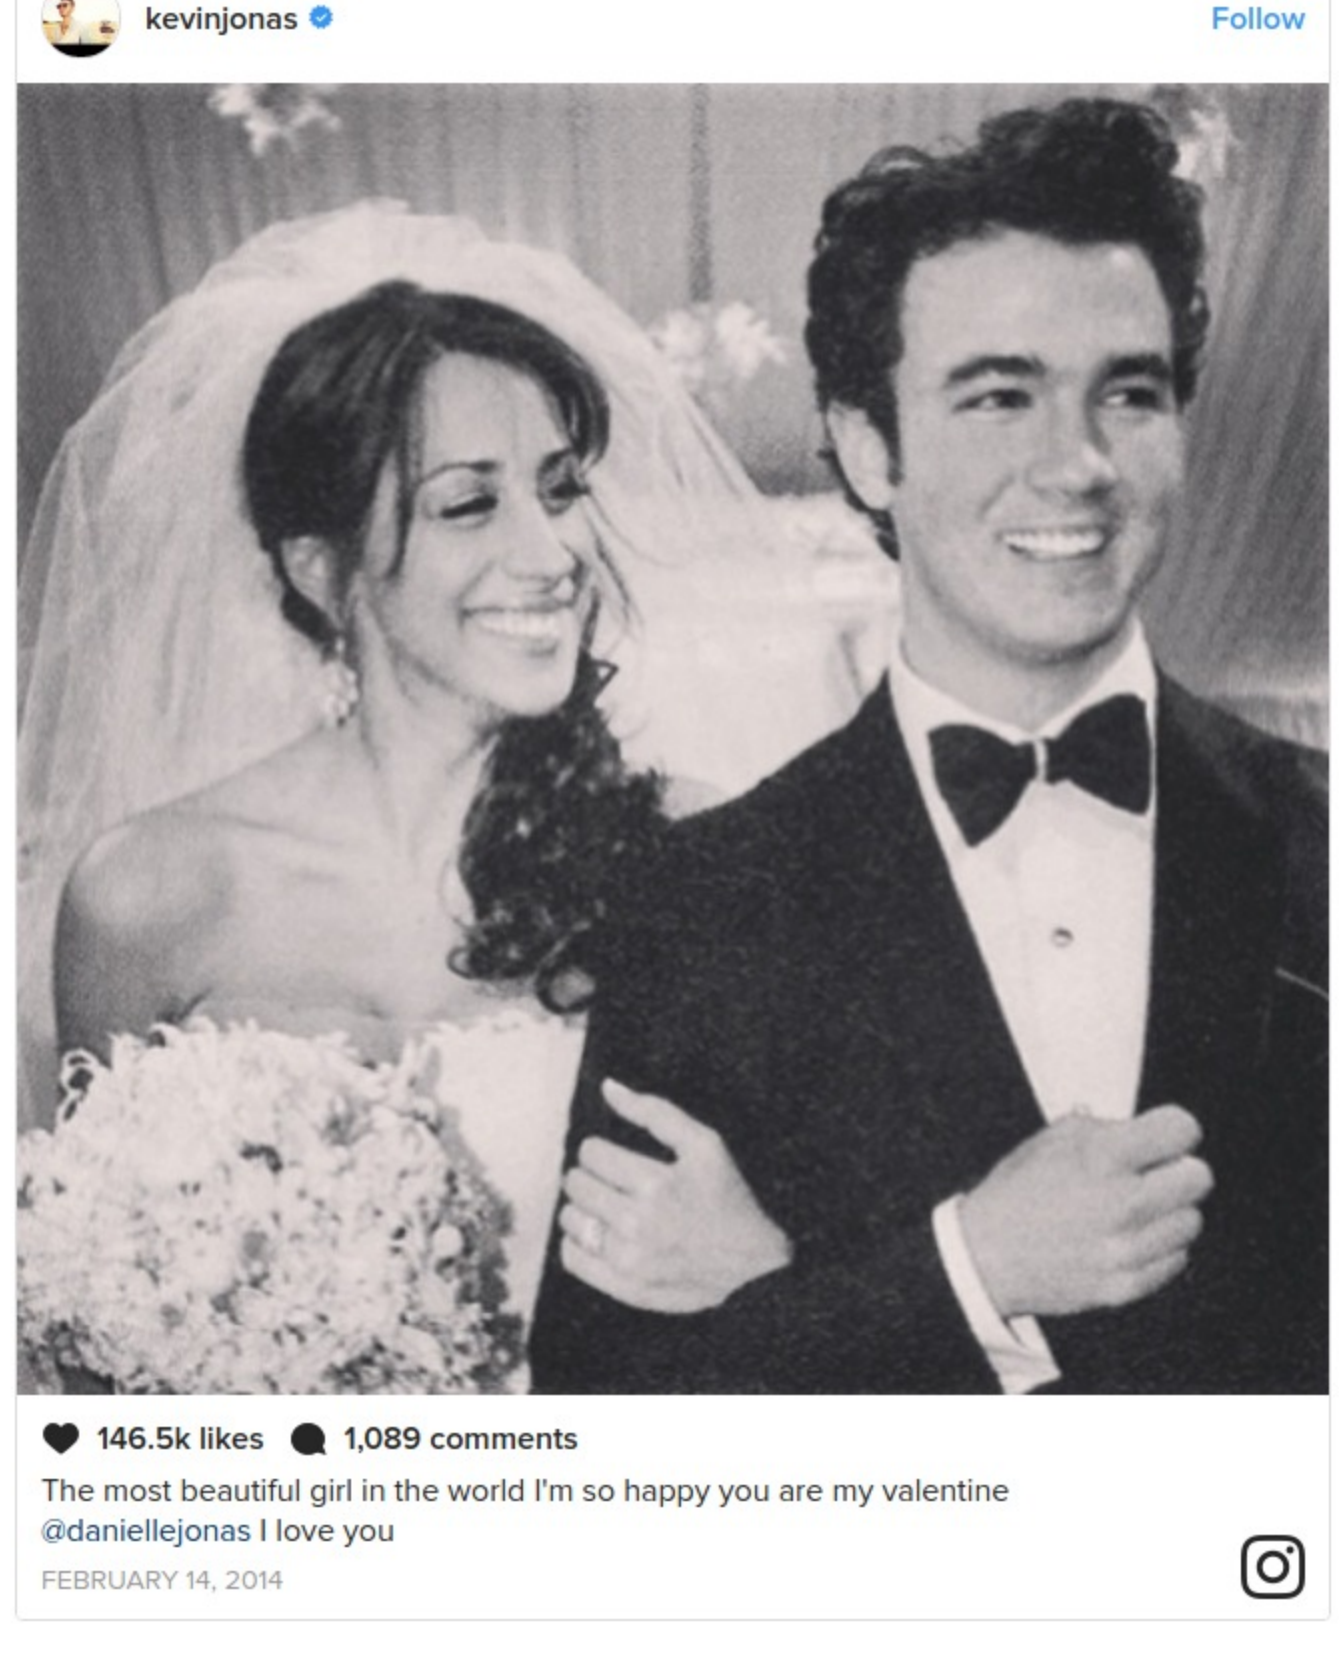

No other details were revealed regarding what their guests can expect when it comes to their planned nuptials, but the couple aren't the only ones who have said their "I do's" at the pricey venue, which has been a favorite among celebrities and politicians the last few years. Here are a few other couples who wed there (in case Maks and Peta need some inspiration):
